

An antivenom is an estimator trained on a biased sample

Training distribution immunogen venom, one collection locality

Test distribution where bites actually happen, burden-weighted

predicted deficit (fraction of weighted venom dose unneutralised)

Research model. Not clinical guidance. Predictions are computational and require experimental validation.

predicted deficit (fraction of weighted venom dose unneutralised)

Figure 1